COMMENTS BY FARMERS

— Color, 26 minutes

A visit to the farms of three mid-American farmers to look, to listen and to learn about them. Their comments are frank and to the point; what they say is pertinent and important to America's economic facts of life. The film, directed to both urban and rural audiences, will help everyone see more clearly the pressures and the pleasures of modern American farming.

FOREIGN MARKETING NEWSREEL

— Color, 13¼ minutes

A trip around the world for a colorful, lively look at American agricultural products on the move. You'll see how and why our farm products are finding large markets and making big news in the intensely competitive world of the 1960's.

BURNING ISSUE

— Color, 14 minutes

The provocative story of a magazine writer covering a major forest fire in the South. His angle... to make his public understand just how important their forests are, and why they must be saved. Many dramatic fire and fire-fighting scenes. A highly effective film produced with the cooperation of the Southern States Forestry Departments.
